

Acknowledgement

The E.L.A.N.D. Project was made possible by a cooperative effort from Southeastern Louisiana University and Louisiana State University education departments. Our sincere gratitude to all who participated for their valuable insight and input.

Special thanks to Professor John Trowbridge of Southeastern Louisiana University for his dedication, Heather Mire for her consultation, Paul Estes for his concept, and Carolyn Van Norman for her polishing. A special thanks to the contributing lesson plan creators listed below.

Going to Global Wildlife—Pam Fogerson

Countdown to extinction—Cathy Bruce

Wish we weren't here—Cynthia Chatelain

Going, going, gone—Cynthia Chatelain

Every litter bit helps—Jill P. Blackwell & Katie Fletcher

Highways, byways, and garbageways—Katie Fletcher

Open wide—Pam Fogerson

Antlers and horns—Dodie Hutchinson

Following footsteps—Valdez Lockhart

Hide and go seek—Jean Carville and Margaret Dubreuil

Giraffe's pantry—Christina Cooper

Food web—Christina Cooper

Where are you from?—Mary Cushing & Adrienne Rushing

A zoo, or not a zoo—Haley Franklin

Home on the range—Christina Cooper

Guess who—Robin Acosta

Scientific Savior—Donna Jean Winborn